Grow your Own Clothing?

A Brooklyn startup Modern Meadow has pioneered a way to coax animal tissue cells into a dense, cowhide-like material with varying strength, weight, texture, and elasticity. Suzanne Lee, their new creative director, has been able to spin whole garments with little more than bacteria, yeast and sweetened green tea. A chance encounter between the artist Lee and a biologist, led to a collaboration that has been an ongoing fashion experiment. Read more at <http://www.popsoci.com/meet-woman-who->

Happy Easter!

Tips for the Environment:

1. Spring resolutions - As we anticipate melting snow and planting season, learn more about sustainable practices that you can use in your yard. You can have a healthy green yard without excessive chemical use (<http://www.beautifulwildlifegarden.com/the-wildlife-friendly-eco-lawn.html>). Native perennials require less maintenance (<http://bnriverkeeper.org/nativeplantguide/>). Rain barrels collect water that can be used on your lawn and reduce stormwater flow problems (

1. Check faucets and pipes for leaks - A small drip from a worn faucet washer can waste 20 gallons of water per day. Larger leaks can waste hundreds of gallons.
 2. Insulate your water pipes - Cover the pipes with pre-slit foam pipe insulation. It is easy and inexpensive and you will get hot water faster and avoid wasting water while it heats up.
 3. Use your water meter to check for hidden water leaks - Read the house water meter before and after a two-hour period when no water is being used. If the meter does not read exactly the same, there is a leak.
 4. In the bathroom - Check your toilets for leaks. Put a little food coloring in your toilet tank. If, without flushing, the color begins to appear in the bowl within 30 minutes, you have a leak that should be repaired immediately. Most replacement parts are inexpensive and easy to install. This small change can save 400 - 600 gallons of water in a month.
 5. Install inexpensive water-saving, low-flow shower heads and low-flow faucet aerators. They are easy to connect
 6. Take shorter showers - One way to cut down on water use is to turn off the shower after soaping up, and then turn it back on to rinse. A four-minute shower uses approximately 20 to 40 gallons of water.
 7. Turn off the water after you wet your toothbrush. Teach your children to do the same; there is no need to keep the water running while brushing your teeth. This small action can save an annual 2,800 gallons.
 8. With clothes washers, avoid the permanent press cycle, which uses an added 5 gallons of water for the extra rinse. If you are planning to purchase a new machine consider buying a water saving frontload washer.
- need to pre-rinse the dishwasher.
