Students, Faculty and Staff
Daemen College

Dear Daemen Community Members:

It has been an eventful spring break to say the least. By now I am sure you have learned that many colleges and universities throughout the United States have moved entirely to an online delivery of classes for either a short period of time, or, in some cases, until the end of the semester. This includes many in New York State, including SUNY, CUNY, and others.

Daemen College continues to follow the guidelines by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) in its protocols and is continuing to develop contingency plans for teaching, if necessary, while actively monitoring the health and well-being of our campus community. We are also requesting students, faculty, and staff who have traveled outside the area for the break, recently traveled, or have been in contact with someone who has traveled to an area seeing an outbreak from the coronavirus to complete this disclosure form

I have consulted with senior administration, faculty senate leadership, and our Emergency Response Team, and while the decisions taken by other institutions and organizations have been done so out of an abundance of caution, we feel that is not the right course of action for Daemen at this time. There are no known cases of COVID-
